Sin:—On behalf of the people of indians, I hid you welcome. They avail themselves of this occasion to edge their tribute of high respect to your character as a man and as a sistesman, and in your person to honor the hid office to which you have been selected. In every free government there will be differences of opinion, and those differences risult in the formation of parties; but when the value of the people has been expressed through the forms of the Constitution, all parties yield to it obedience. Submission to the popular will be the sessential principle of Republicas government, and so vitalis this principle that it admits of but one exception, which is revolution. To weaken it, is anarchy; to destroy it, if despontion. It recognises no appeal beyond the ballot-box, and while it is preserved, liberty may be wounded but sever slair. To this principle the people of Indiana—man of all parties—are bound, and they here welcome you as the Chief Magistrate elset of the people. When our fathers framed the Constitution, they declared it was to form a more perfect union, ostabilish juice and to preserve the blessings of liberty to themselves and their posterity; and for this consideration e proclaim the determination of our people to maintain that Constitution inviolate as it came from their hands. Tals Union has been the idol of our hopes, the parent of our prospective, our title to the respect and consideration of the world. Fellow Civisens of the State of Indiana; I am here to thank you much for this magnificent welcome, and still more for the generous support given by your State to that political canse which I think is the true and just cause of the whole country, and the whole world. Solomon says there is a time to keep silence, and when men wrangle by the month with no certainty that they mean the same thing, while using the same words, it perhaps were as well it stop would keep silence. The words "corrcion" and "inreadon" are much used in these days, and often with bad temper and hot blood. Let us make sure, if we can, tifat we do not understand the meaning of those who uses them. Let us get exact ceintitious of those words, not from dictionaries, but from the men themselves, who certainly deprecate the things they would represent by the nee of the words. What, then, is coercion? what is lurasion? Would the marching of an army into South Carolina without the consent of her properly, and with hostile intent towards them, be luvasion? I certainly think it would, and it would be corrcion also, if the South Carolinians were forced to submit; but if the United States should merely hold and retake its own forts and o her property, and collect the duties on foreign importations, of even withhold the mails from places where they were habitually violated would, and two where they were habitually violated would, as or all of (these on the part of the United States would be corrcion or invasion of a State I so, their idea of means to preserve the object of their great affection would seem to be exec to largy time and sire. There have been no desertions, no disaffections exist, and the entire command outertain the highest respect and admiration for Major Anderson, with whom they are ready to stand or fall in their country's defence.

There had been no reinforcement of Major Anderson up to the time of their leaving, on Friday last. Seventy-ning persons, including the officer's and band, and exclusive of a working corps of twenty men, under Capitaln Foster, constitute the whole garrison—a force generally felt to be insufficient for a rigorous or prolonged defense of the place.

But once the attack commences, will buchanan be able to prevent the loyal men of the nation from rushing to the rescue of the gallant band? Will not his miserable life immediately pay the forfielt of their sacrifice?

The Illinois delegation to the Peace Conference arrived in Washington last evening, and called on Judge Trumbull during the evening. Not much progress was made by the conclave yesterday in their secret session. It was resolved to raise a committee of one from each State, on whom is to devolve the important duty of reporting some scheme of adjustment. But there is no possibility of making a settlement while the border States hold to the position that the General Government shall not be allowed to enforce the laws in the insurgent States, and that they will make common cause with the robels, and wage war against the Union, if the Government should attempt to do so. They must abandon this anti-coercion ground, before any settlement is possible.

The odious Crittenden-Powell stave code scheme meets with less and less favor every day. It is clead, and already slinketh.

The truth of the out saying, that "there's many a slip," &c., has been verified by the action of the Legislature on the Virginia Commissioner question since Thursday evening, when I sent you a telegram, immediately after the adjournment, that our Rupublican Congressmen were appointed Commissioners.

Thursday afternoon the resolutions, as given mittee on Federal Relations, so amended as to strike out that part giving the appointment to the Governor, and substituting the names of Durkee, Doolittle, Washburn and Potter, and leaving it discretionary with them to act or not, as they judged expedient. The resointions, thus amended, were concurred in by a vote of 16 to 12; those originally in favor of sending Commissioners voting against them. An effort was unsuccessfully made to insert the names of the Congressmen elect.

"Resuming their Sovereignty." Iditors Chicago Tribune:
The seeding States generally follow the lead of South Carolina, not only in the fact of secession, but also in the manner of it. They severally ordain and announce to the world, that they "resume that sovereignty" which they yielded up when they canie into the Union.

What sovereignty did they lose by entering the Union? Leaving South Carolina and Georgia out of the account, what sovereignty Georgia out of the account, what sovereignty did Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Flor-ida lose? Alabama and Mississippi were a part of the territories of the United States. As such they were governed by the laws of the United States. The people of those Territories repeatedly asked permission of the United States to form State Constitutions, and to come into the Union, and permission was, in due time, granted. If they had any sovereign-ty it was derived from that permission of the United States, and it was only such a cover-eignty as was deemed essential to their equal-ity with the other States in the Union, not out of it. Now, in the case of the other Territo-ries how was it? Louisiana was a dependency of France. The United States bought Louis-United States. Florida was a dependency of the United States. Florida was a dependency of Spain. She, too, was bought, and her dependency and her obligation of allegiance were transferred to the United States. These Territories, in due time, obtained permission to enter the Union as States, and in so doing became invested with that sovereignty which their equality in the Union with other States required.

For Sunters, S. C., Jan. 27, 1861.

Our present status may be described as tha lull before the storm. The papers will tell you many things about us that are utterly and entirely faise. We are yet receiving no fresh provisions of any kind from Charleston. A quantity of beef was sent some days ago, but as no arrangement had yet been made with the authorities, we sent it back, saying to Gov. Pickens that if we were to be furnished as a right, we would make the customary arrangements in town: but if it phe sent as a civility or courtesy, we declined to receive anything. The papers here publish faiselnoods every day. That we are receiving fresh provisions is false; that our boat was fired into by a batt ry on Sullivan's Island is also false; and that Major Anderson is a secessionist is equally so. And thus it goes on. We have have no way of making known our position except through Washington.

We are, to all intents and purposes, in as would come back and be welcomed to the first place in the fold.

The speech made a good deal of excitement as developing the first great controversy in the Republican ranks. There was much apparent enjoyment of it on the Democratic side of the House. McClerenad could not contain his en-thusiasm, but left his scal in the midst of the speech, and shook Kellogg was congratula-ted by all the Southern members from border States, and by a good many Northern Demo-crats. But the Republicans stood aloof. States, and by a good many Northern Democrats. But the Republicans stood aloof.

Mr. Kellogg and his Constituents.

[From the Lacon (III.) Gazette-]

The Democratic party, North, by gross misrepresentation of the views and purposes of the Republican party, have raised a whirtwind, and now call upon the same libelled and abused party to direct the storm. They have brought every argument and appliance to bear upon Republicans in and out of Congress to shate somewhat from their party platform; and now, when the dread of disumou and the horrors of civil war stare the country in the face it certainly is not strange that now and then a member of Congress—who is but a man at best—is found wanting in the spinal column.
Such a man, and the last his constituents had reason to expect, is found in Hon. Win Kellogg, from this the IV th congressional district of Illinois. A few days ago Mr. K. introduced a series of resolutions proposing several amendments to the constitution; reestablishing the line 35:00 and providing for the exclusion of slavery north of size line, while in the territorial estat; and south of the line providing that neither Congress nor any

This we understand to be, not the Hepublican but Brackin-ridge declarine; and to which there is not a corporal's guard among the many thom-and Republicans in this district who sided in the re-election of Mr. K. who will sfiftmatively respond. But brethren of the IVth District is tue not be in haste to condemn—when the curtain lifts and the causes stand revealed that impelled our member to the act that seems so mysterious, circumstances may fully vindicate his course. From the Cincinnati Gazette, 9th.]

We are most reliably informed that there are agents of the Gulf States in the city, endeavoring to create a sentiment among business men favorable to the establishment of a Confederacy composed of the Southern and Northwestern States. A well known leader among the Democracy has been approached, our information goes to show, within the past two or three days, by these agents, with a view of obtaining his influence, but that, he declined having anything to do with so traitorous a scheme, as he is a stanch Union man. The object is to make Free Trade the basls of the Confederacy; to cut off New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and all the New England States, which are also wedded to a protective tariff. These Southern gentlemen state that there are agents of the Gulf States throughout all the Northwestern States who are making aimiliar overtures, and that it a their aim to apprais the issue soon among the citizens of these States. It is further averred that they have purchased the acquisescence of a daily paper of this city, which at the right moment, will proclaim the scheme, and offer it to our people as the only means left to excure peace.

What is to become of "Southern Rights" and the "Equality of the States "under this new phase of the dismiss house has not yet been developed.

The Buty on Sugar.

We have alreasy incidentally stated, on what we believed good authorities, that the amount of duties paid on sugars imported into this country, to protect the interest of plants are including a country, to protect the interest of plants are including a country, to protect the interest of plants are including a country, to protect the interest of plants are including a country, to protect the interest of plants are including a country, to protect the interest of plants are including a country, to protect the interest of plants are including a country, to protect the interest of sugar imported was $23,381,100, the duty on which (24 per cent.) amounted to 45,943,400. Of the total consumption of sugar in this country it is calimated that forty per cent is the product of Louisians plantsions, and the protection in the country it is calimated that forty per cent is the product of Louisians plantsions, and the protection in the country in the last quarter of a century the sugar product of Louisians must have should think this sum considerably below the mark. During the last quarter of a century the super product of Louisians must have been the an agitation for the repeal of the duty on sugar has been already started by some of our Republican cotemporaries, and in the movement they will probably be supported by the freedrade Democrats of the South. With the former, we suppose, it is more a question of relatation for the secasion of the State of Louisians than one of political economy, while the interest will perhaps bese their action on the general constiturations which render them hostile to the whole theory and policy of protection.

If we are correctly informed, we think that The Special Train for Mr. Lincoln.

We saw at the Central Railroad depot yesterday, the special car which is to convey Mr. Lincoln from this city to Albany. It is one of the twenty new and elegant ones which have just been linished by the Company, as an addition to their running stock, and is tastefully furnished and decorated. One of the new sleeping cars, of the Central Railroad Company, with the improved ventilator, has also been put in complete order for the occasion, and will accompany the other car, for the use of the President and his party.
